Mr. Frank Haven
Dean of Boys

The "Silver Fox," Dean of Boy's, Mr. Frank Haven was one of the moving forces on the Covina High School campus. We the students of Covina dedicate this yearbook to you for all the years of service and hard work you have put in on our behalf.

When you retire some of the spark that makes our campus alive and sparkling will lose its glow, but we will continue to work for all those things which make a school great.

We dedicate this yearbook to you and wish you all of the best - both here on campus and in the near future when you may do just what you choose to do. Congratulations! We love you, Frank!

Associated Student Body

The Associated Student Body was truly the backbone of all school activities and issues concerning government. A group of elected students and the A.S.B. Council worked together to complete one goal - the involvement and enjoyment of each student at Covina High School. School spirit soared this year and campus life was alive, thanks to the various activities the council hosted throughout the year. Plans for the improvement of the general campus area were enlarged as the A.S.B. Council worked diligently to raise money to finance the revamping of our campus.

Jackie Iovino, unique senior from New York, had the honor of being the first lady elected president of the Associated Student Body in the history of Covina High. Jackie combined her skills with the Administration, the Director of Student Activities, and the A.S.B. Council striving to make each day profitable for each student.

Aiding the president was the talented, hard-working vice-president, Sue Acosta. Devoting much time and energy to her position throughout the year, Sue was a prominent figure on the A.S.B. Cabinet, and a trusted aide to Jackie.

as the Secretary of Activities, Secretary of Finance, and Secretary of Athletics, respectively. Karen provided the entire student body with exciting and challenging activities throughout the year. Kevin was known not only for his outgoing personality, but also for his mastery of mathematics making him a very competent treasurer for our school. With her vivacious personality, Kim was the life of the cabinet. She did an excellent job of keeping the school informed of the whereabouts and results of all athletic events during the year.

As the A.S.B. advisor, Mr. Russell Butcher completed his second year at Covina. Mr. Butcher worked constantly with each member of the cabinet, and was the initial reason for much of the success and many of the accomplishments of the entire A.S.B.

Completing our indispensable A.S.B. Cabinet were four commissioners; Yvette De La Torre, Maria Piscopo, Debbie Ryan, and Ron Peterson. Each one of these individuals contributed abundant amounts of time and worked continuously to help fulfill all the goals of the entire cabinet.

ASB President And Cabinet

Jackie Iovino
ASB President

My year as 1982-83 A.S.B. President was filled with many new challenges and responsibilities. My job as A.S.B. president was made less difficult because of the whole-hearted cooperation of the A.S.B. Council. My cabinet and I rose to the challenge and met each problem with enthusiasm and the will to succeed.

Perhaps our greatest accomplishment was this year's Fall Homecoming. I am sure that it was one of the best Homecomings Covina High School has ever had. I am happy to have been a part of the creation and execution of such a fantastic phenomenon.

I hope that everyone will look back and remember their first female A.S.B. president with a positive attitude.

It has been quite an experience and I thank the entire student body for all the "ups" and "downs".

Good luck to all who follow us and I hope you enjoy your work as this entire A.S.B. did this year.

Jacqueline Iovino
A.S.B. President

Susan Acosta
ASB Vice-President

As the 1982-83 school year comes to a close, I would like to take this opportunity to thank all the people who made this year worthwhile. Although our A.S.B. met with some overwhelming challenges, we worked together as a unit and pulled through to make it a memorable year.

One accomplishment, in particular, surpassed all others in my opinion. The 1982 Fall Homecoming was a spectacular event and I was very proud of its spectacular success. As A.S.B. vice-president, my main function was to work with the different clubs on campus and I must say that Covina High contains the finest of organizations.

In closing, I would like to express my sincere gratitude to all who helped me along the way and wish the Class of '83 the best of luck in the future!

Pep Units

The pep units filled the 1982-1983 school year with enthusiasm and excitement.

This group consisted of three units. The Varsity Cheerleaders, under strong leadership of Janet Doane, yelled their hearts out for the athletes of Covina. The Songleaders, with vivacious Maria Quillicy as head, entertained many a fan with exciting and new routines. Finally, the Junior Varsity unit with head, Julianne Wiggins, cheered the Junior Varsity teams on to victory. Along with these units was the hard-working mascot, Stella Fragosa. Stella was the fun-loving girl in the colt costume perking up fans and making everything fun. Mrs. Bonnie Letourneau, adviser, was the support of this group and kept them going through thick and thin.

All these girls worked for many long hours practicing cheers and routines. The training started as soon as the positions were filled. Camp was ahead of them and the girls worked during the summer perfecting their techniques. Covina Pep fared well at the United Spirits Associations Camp at Santa Barbara. The Varsity Cheer unit was awarded a Superior trophy and the Song girls won a fantastic third place in competition with other Songleaders and they also won a coveted Spirit Stick. All the Pepsters came home with loads of ribbons and exhilerating new ideas for the upcoming year.

Once school started the girls were off on their exciting adventures - cheering at athletic events, bringing treats for the players and selling the famous spirit ribbons.

Not only did these girls work out for games and rallies, but also spent early mornings and third periods practicing for competitions and a USC football game.

The Pep units this year lived up to the high traditions of the units before them. With a Colt kick and a merry rah-rah these girls filled our games and rallies with spirit and pep!

The Covina High Tall Flag and Rhythmette Drill Team Units had a hard working year. The Tall Flags unit was led by Velinda Patten. Her leadership brought the tall flag unit winning awards at various competitions. They placed second at Hibbard's American Camp and also placed fourth at the La Habra High School Field Tournament. The tall flags unit also entered parades and other flag competitions during the year. The tall flags received helpful assistance from their advisers, Carol Smith, Barbara Gabriel, and June Millorich.

Colossal Colt Band

The Colossal Colt Band, Tall Flags, and Rhythemette Drill Team had an excellent year this year. The band was led by Senior Drum Major, Dino Robinson, and Assistant Drum Major, sophomore David Alexander. The band had its excellent year because of the fine effort and leadership of the band Director, Mr. Robert Green.

The band and the two marching units performed at home-game, half-time shows, where their music and field formations were executed to perfection. The Colt Booster Band also showed their pride and spirit for the school by playing in rallies and away games.

This year the band entered various field competitions such as, the La Habra Field Competition and the Cal Poly Field Competition in Pomona. They did quite well in these competitions taking a third at the La Habra Field Competition and it was the first time in many years that the band had entered any field competitions.

The band also took part in several parades such as the Annual Covina Holiday Parade in Covina and the Santa Claus Lane Parade in Hollywood. This parade was nationally televised and was seen on TV by millions.

The Band, Tall Flags, and Rhythmette Drill Team also participated in the West Covina Shopping Plaza Christmas Tree Lighting.

They led the parade and marched throughout the Plaza playing Christmas carols while the Drill Team and Tall Flags performed their routines.

The Band Boosters held several fund raisers. The successful candy bar sale and also the Christmas tree sale money was geared toward the purchase of new equipment - flags, drums, and other necessities for field performances. The dedication of the Band, Tall Flags, and Drill Team that resulted in such marvelous performances will surely be treasured forever by the entire student body.

Cardinal Staff

Only a select number of people realize the hard work that goes into the production of the memorable Cardinal each year. Each member of the yearbook staff puts in a great deal of his or her time and great effort to turn empty paper into memory-covered pages. Every deadline was met by the responsible staff, but without the help of their diligent working editor, Maria Piscopo, this might never have been done.

An assiduous, young junior, Tina Higley, showed her talent as she labored at her job as Business Manager. Susan Pavelco found out what was in a name by her job as Index Editor. As Copy Editor, Marissa Pocius read and corrected every written piece of work that went into the yearbook. The fabulous class pages were directed by the merciless Yvette De Le Torre, Class Editor. The Sports Section was managed by the Sports Editors, Darren Villardo and Ruby Valdez. They used all their creative talent and experience to assemble a notable and novel Sports Section.

The work was tiring and often tedious, but with the support of their adviser, Mrs. Watkins, the final March deadline was met. Though sometimes the staff thought that they might never see the light at the end of the tunnel, the completed yearbook gave them the proof that all the hard work paid-off after all.

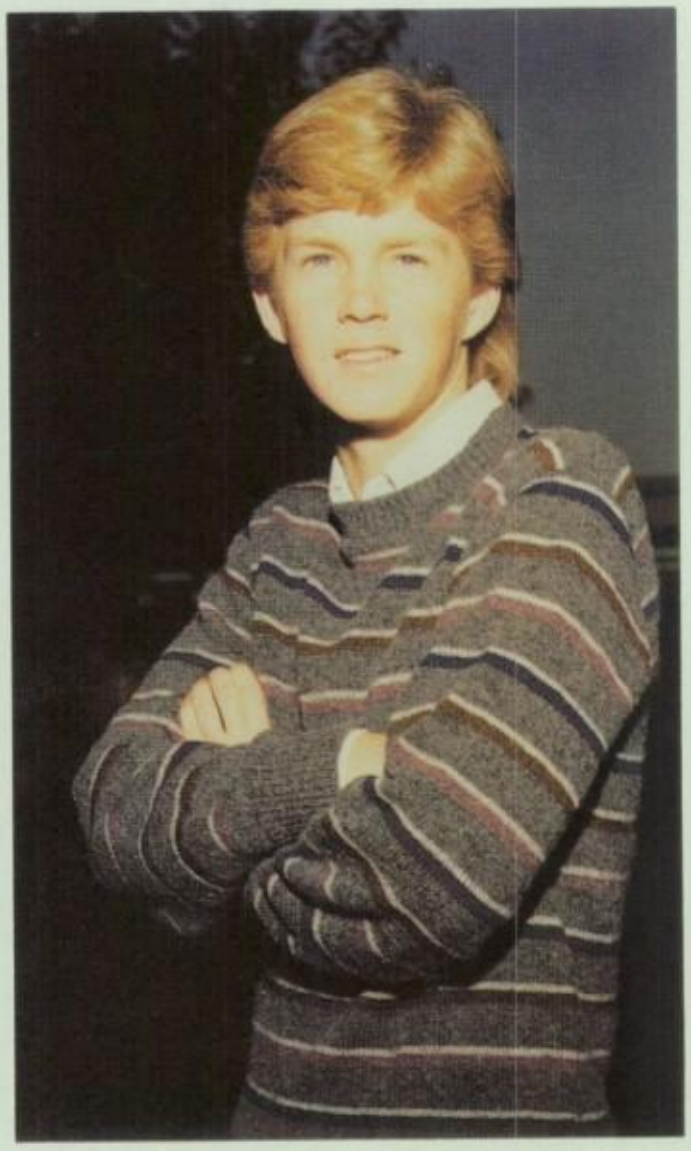
Brunch

Senior Class Council

Marissa J. Pocius - Senior President



Dave Everson - Senior Vice-President

High school days for the Class of '83 have finally come to an end. With the completion of this time that brought us together let us take a look at some of the hi-lights of our stay here at CHS.

Our Freshman year we were welcomed to the Covina High campus with open trash cans and loving arms. The Seniors of the day were held in high reverence, not to be tampered with in any way, shape, or form. The term "squid" hadn't yet been coined, so we were saved that humiliation; but we were made to suffer in other ways. Wasn't it always us who received the brunt of the milk fights? Wasn't the line of fire during the tennis ball throws somehow determined by where we happened to be standing at the time? Finally, wasn't it always we who were degraded by our losses in all the class competitions? I, personally, don't recall the Seniors eating a cream pie while blindfolded as the other classes looked on with repressed laughter. It was Ron Peterson who led our young and inexperienced class through this trying year.

Our Sophomore year we were greeted with more respect because a new load of freshmen had arrived to fill the void we created when we moved up. Our football and baseball teams stole the show by becoming CIF Champions. This became the year we would look back upon and compare the rest to. Chad Christensen was the class president and did a fine job.

When our Junior year rolled around we tackled it enthusiastically — nothing could stop us now! We had the feel of the school and were just waiting for our opportunity to take control. We sponsored the Junior-Senior Prom and it was a success due to our productive and demanding president, Maria Piscopo.

We approached our Senior year with sadness and apprehension: This was to be our last year at CHS. Our last year to be wild, obnoxious, and crazy without having to suffer any consequences. We had waited three years for this and we weren't going to spoil our last chance to rule the school. Guarding the Senior Quad became our favorite pastime, and we felt oh, so cool doing so! The privilege of having a lunch line all to ourselves was great, even though we rarely used it. The best part of being a Senior we found was simply being a SENIOR.

It's all over now. Everything that we did in high school has become history. All the good times, the tears, the exams that we studied all night for in hopes of passing have become but mere memories that we tuck away in the corners of our minds, to be brought out only in times of nostalgia. As Senior Class President and on behalf of my classmates, I would like to thank everyone involved in making these years at CHS some of the best years of our lives. I would like to close the year with the knowledge that the Class of '83 will go on to bigger and better things in life. It can be done and if anyone can do it, it will be us. Take care, my friends, for it is we who determine what we are and what our future will be.

Dances

"Magic Under the Big Top," the theme for the 1982 Fall Homecoming, became one of the most talked about events on the Covina High School campus. When a hot air balloon came floating down onto the football field during the half-time show crowning ceremonies, mouths went into motion and they haven't stopped yet. October 29, 1982, became a magical time in the memory of Sue Branconier when she was ballooned out of the packed stadium as Covina's 1982 Homecoming Queen. Trax provided the tunes for the evening's dance held in the queen's honor.

The Winter Semi-Formal sponsored by GAA was held on Saturday, December 4, at Rio Hondo College in the banquet-ballroom. "Twas the Night" was the theme of this enchanted evening and Shyrinx provided the romantic melodies to round out a perfect Christmas card evening.

On Friday, January 28, Yvette De La Torre was crowned the 1983 Winter-Homecoming Queen. The theme, "Over the Rainbow," was successfully achieved throughout, from the rally with each class section decorated in brilliant rainbow colors to the pastel floral arrangements on the dais and archway at the crowning ceremonies. A special treat at the Homecoming dance was Raymond Banister, alias Ramondo of Ramondo and the Blade, a popular radio personality from K-ROQ who kept the evening moving with the current hits and many oldies from the K-ROQ archives.

The Sadie Hawkins' dance, Covina's only dance where girl asks boy, was held on Saturday, March 19 in Covina High's own gymnasium. The girls from Alcyonians, who sponsor this dance, did an excellent job decorating for the dance in hillbilly fashion. Matt Quillicy was named Mr. Hawkins and Smokewood supplied the entertainment for this delightful evening.

Annually Wycaipians sponsor the Luau dance. Hawaiian attire and adornments prevailed throughout the evening as students hula-danced into the wee hours to the sounds of disc jockey, Andy Renner.

Covina High boasted six Soc Hops this year and each one of them had the talented and popular Dean Beatie keeping the rhythm flowing as disc jockey. These dances were hosted by each of the various councils and ASB. These events were held in the school gym after football and basketball games.

The Huntington Sheraton Hotel's Ballroom was the location for the 1983 Junior-Senior Prom held on April 30. "Magic Moments" proved to be an appropriate theme for this dance, as the night was truly magical. Surge provided the musical beat for the evening and Kristin Sagmeister and Scott Kirk were crowned Prom Queen and King, respectively and so ended a beautiful and magical year of dances for members of the Class of '83.

Cardinal & White

VOLUME XXXIX

Working Staff

Courtney Rodriguez, Mark Terry, Jeff Kerr, Shawn Miller, John Barro, Scott Lothe, Lisa LaRiccia, Susan Kimsey

The 1982-83 Journalism staff proved invaluable in the production of Cardinal & White. Without these hardworking, devoted and dedicated students the weekly eight page newspaper could not have been published.

A few of the staff writers were awarded special permanent assignments, in addition to the weekly assignments that every journalist was responsible for doing and that had to be turned in each week. One of these persons, Mark Terry, had the honor of producing his own column, Terry's Tally, which was a critique of the current movies playing at the local theaters. Jeff Kerr was awarded the duty of gaining access to the vital information that made up the Counseling Corner in each week's paper. Lastly, Karen Maybury had the obligation of collecting the specific dates of events that were occurring so that she could make up the Calendar section of the paper.

The other journalists on staff — John Barro, Susan Kimsey, Lisa LaRiccia, Scott Lothe, Shawn Miller and Courtney Rodriguez were not left out when the responsibilities were handed out. Each one of them was required to pound out stories every-week, whether a paper was to be printed or not. They had to take the famous "hike" to print shop where they had certain menial tasks that had to be completed. Becoming a page editor at the weekly after school paste-ups became the coveted job that each one of them wanted to possess. The last requirement of the staff, as well as everybody else in Journalism was to collect advertisements for the paper. This was the only income that the paper had, short of the small amount of money provided by ASB.

Bryon Hopkins and Arthur Glazier were the newspaper photographers. They had the awesome responsibility of snapping and developing pictures. Without fail these two members could be counted on to give their best efforts towards producing the finest pictures that would complete the pages of the paper each week.

Mrs. Watkins, the Journalism adviser, freely gave her time and knowledge to this young and energetic staff. Often times she stayed late into the nights toiling with the Editors to help them meet the Wednesday morning deadlines.

Mr. Clarke, the print shop adviser, did a super job in overseeing the printing of the paper. Without his efforts and time the production of the C & W would have been impossible.

Motivating Force

News Editors

Editor in Chief

Sports Editors

Karen Maybury and Scott Kirk, the News Editor and Assistant News Editor respectively, had great responsibilities resting on their shoulders this year. These editors aided the Editor-in-Chief whenever possible. Assignments, giving them out then collecting and proofreading them became their biggest chore. Paste-up days, the days when the staff worked overtime to meet deadlines, where days full of hard work and menial tasks for these two staff members as they were required to be on hand to supervise in the absence of the Editor-in-Chief.

Marissa Pocius, the Editor-in-Chief, had awesome duties that she had to tend to this year. Most editors have had years of experience on journalism staffs, but not Marissa. She had to oversee the entire production of the paper and make sure that everything was going smoothly. If there was any trouble she had to straighten it out. Marissa was held accountable for everything that went onto the pages of the paper and many times had her skills tested and her nerves frayed.

Sue Acosta and Paul Letourneau, the Sports Editor and Assistant Sports Editor, did a fine job proving that they were responsible students where the paper was concerned. Every week these editors could be depended upon to fulfill their three page quota. Assigning sport stories, collecting and correcting them, and getting them sent down to print, plus laying out and pasting down the sports pages were the sports editors' jobs. Without fail these students completed these tasks with minimum effort and maximum quality.

Mid-Winter Concert

"Concordant Impressions" was the theme for the 1983 Mid-Winter Concert. The concert band, jazz ensemblee, wind ensemble, and soloists made the evening a very memorable one for all those who attended. These units in the music department have always been famous for the melodious sounds that issue from that corner of the campus. This was the only time that the parents and general student body was able to see these fine musicians in action. That the concert was a tremendous success was evident from the resounding applause that issued from the gym that had been decorated by music students. The gala look of the gym was carried out in the gala sound of the music that was played by the students.

The conductor of this affair was none other than Mr. Robert L. Green. The Master of Ceremonies was an ex-Covina student and band member, Steve Gotlieb. Concert Coordinator, Vince Cowles, and Assistant-Coordinator, Somini Sengupta did a fine job putting together the many pieces and coming up with the fine concert that was appreciated by all who attended. Somini Sengupta also held the envied position of Concert Mistress.

The program was impressive from the opening strains of the Star-Spangled Banner to the closing throbs of "Impressions of the New West" and the melodic sounds and toe-tapping rhythm of the Clarinet Polka in the middle of the program.

Choral Music

Covina High School's Concert Choir and Chorus Department has always been known to be replete with talent. The 1982-83 group is no exception. Under the guidance of Dr. Frederic Bacon-Shone, they have proven their musical worth. Time and time again. A large part of the success of the Annual Christmas Program can be credited to this group, 61 voices strong.

The choral department had their part in the spring musical, "Carousel". They had many successful fundraisers during the year. The money was used towards the props and costumes for the musical. The year 1982-83 has proven to be one well remembered by the choral department.

A great Christmas program.

Carousel

The 1983 spring musical was put on with many talented performers. Under the superb direction of Dr. Bacon-Shone, the Rogers and Hamerstein production "Carousel" was a huge success. Everyone who was involved in the spring musical devoted many hard hours of practice to put on a terrific production of the "Carousel".

The talented Dave Greene held the male lead of Billy Bigelow. The rest of the main characters were cast as follows: Julie Jordan-Jane Burse and Kerrie Haley, Carrie Pepperidge-Roxanna Ball and Gina Riatto, Nettie Fowler-Wendy York and Wendy Belt, Enoch Snow-Joe Petty, Jigger Craigan-Gus McDaniel. Members of the concert choir and chorus also participated in the musical.

Girls' League

Girls' League had indeed lived up to its standards and had another successful year. Raising money for the different activities sponsored by the club took much of their time. Girls' League again sold Heart-O-Grams to all the sweethearts on campus. All the money that the club raised went to support their activities. Their annual Mother-Daughter and Father-Daughter Banquets were huge successes, and fun-filled evenings for all. They also visited resthomes and childrens' homes during both Christmas and Easter holidays. The Girls' League put on a lovely Senior Parent Tea after the Baccalaureate services.

The mainstay of the club was the capable leadership of President Janet Doane and Vice-President Maria Quillicy. Both were pleased with the club's fantastic year and give many thanks to their helpful advisers Mrs. Cathrine Kelley and Mother-of-the-Year Mrs. Joan Delzangle.

C.S.F., the only academic club on campus, worked closely with adviser Mrs. Beverly Hertel to complete many worthwhile projects. To be a member of C.S.F. one must have achieved at least three A's and one B in academic solids during a semester.

The club, led by President Brett Kawakami, had successful bake sales and hosted the annual College Night. The California Scholastic Federation took many exciting excursions to the Hertel's cabin, to see Camelot, and to Disneyland. Not only did they have much success in all their endeavors, but C.S.F. managed to have fun and excitement while completing a successful academic year!

Alcyonians

Over the years Alcyonians has been the most popular girls club on campus. Among their numerous projects, every year they sponser the long awaited Sadie Hawkins dance. Sadie's was held on February 26th in the Covina High School gym. Traditionally this has been a girl-ask-guy dance as it was again this year. Being one of the most exciting events of the year, the girls worked very hard to make this Sadie Hawkins better than the previous years.

In December the club held a Christmas party for the children in the pediatrics departments of neighboring hospitals. They also visited several convalesant homes and sang beautiful Christmas carols. The children had a wonderful time and the senior citizens hope to see the girls return again next year during the Christmas holidays.

In order to raise the necessary amount of money needed to put on these events, Alcyonians held such fund raisers as carnation sales and bake sales.

Club meetings were held every Wednesday morning at 7:15 in their advisor Mrs. Schlenz's room. Mrs. Schlenz has been a tremendous help at organizing and advising the club this year. Her enthusiasm, support, and positive attitude helped the girls successfully achieve their goals.

There biggest project this year was to raise money in order to donate a CIF sign to the school which will be put up in the gym.

The cabinet consisted of one senior and six junior officers. The senior being president, Dezi Lokar. They worked very hard this year making every event new and exciting.

Wycaipians

Wycaipians is one of the many important service clubs on Covina High's campus. This particular club consists of girls who want to participate in school services and projects. Just recently Wycaipians began to allow freshmen to join the club. To join the club a girl must fill out an application and make it through neophyte week. This consists of dressing up differently each day and completing various tasks. Wycaipians is the only club that allows freshmen to join.

Meetings were held every Wednesday morning at 7:30 a.m. They discussed all of the important upcoming events and went over various committee reports at these meetings.

Under the faithful leadership of President Robin Renner, they raised the necessary money needed in order to pay for the many school functions that they sponsored. One of the biggest projects of the year was to plan and put on the exciting Hawaiian Luau Dance. At this dance, the students dressed up in Hawaiian clothes and participated in many Hawaiian customs such as wearing brightly colored leis.

The job of the GAA was to raise money to buy sports equipment, trophies and other awards for their banquet which was held at the end of the year.

They had many successful fundraisers such as bake sales, the selling of seat cushions and the successful Winter Semi-Formal Dance which was held at Rio Hondo College.

The GAA was led by club President, Sue Branconier; Vice-President, Sue Acosta; Secretary, Kim Locke; Treasurer, Debbie Barber; and special events chairperson, Kim Fuller. The help and support by the club adviser, Mrs. Nancy Pennell made the GAA club a successful one.

The S.T.C. was started by Sophomore George Wilbanks. S.T.C. stands for Students "That" Care. This new club's purpose was to help the community. Since this club was started at the beginning of the year, it was still very small about 15-20 members. With the help of the advisers Mrs. Hertel and Mrs. Schlenz they hoped that S.T.C. would grow larger and more active.

The Lettermen's Club was formed to give recognition to the fine male athletes at Covina High School. Each applicant had to fll out an application that had to be approved by the board members and Mr. Ray Wilson, the adviser.

The mighty Lettermen's Club was under the leadership of President, Mando Santos; Vice-President, Robert Edgell; Sargeant-of-Arms, Martin Martinez; and Secretary-Treasurer, Jay Burnett.

The Lettermen's Club sponsored a terrific volleyball game between their membership and the girls' Varsity team. The girls flawlessly destroyed the boys, but everybody had a really fun time.

It was now the boys' Varsity team. The girls flawlessly destroyed the boys, but everybody had a really fun time.

It was now the boys' Varsity basketball team to be put to a challenge. The faculty and the Varsity team played an exciting four quarters.

The highlight of the fundraisers was the Lettermen's Second Annual Donkey Basketball Game. The night was filled with laughter and fun and everyone had a great time.

The Lettermen held the traditional slave sale once again. They made a large amount of money, which was used to purchase additional athletic equipment.

The Lettermen also played a softball game against the girls' varsity softball team. If the Lettermen did not always win the opposing team was pretty and athletically astute.

The boys also talked about sponsoring a Father-Son Banquet next year. They felt it was important for the fathers and sons to have their special time together as the girls do at the Mother-Daughter Banquet.

The year was a full one and it was nice to have this club active once again on campus.

Masque And Dagger

Masque and Dagger was formed as a support group for drama productions. It still survives as an interest group open to all students with an appeal in drama.

Masque and Dagger, though presently lacking a theatre teacher, has managed and will continue the production of at least one play a year. All members assisted with the plays by constructing and designing sets, designing and hanging lights, and, of course, acting. In the past years the group has produced Tennessee Williams, The Glass Menagerie, as well as Noel Coward's, Blithe Spirit. These yearly plays were the highlights of the year for the Masque and Dagger member, because it brought everyone closer together. Drama was again on the upswing and it provided hope for the future of all these great cultural events at Covina High.

They once again held the Mr. Covina Contest. One boy from each class was chosen to participate. A photograph was taken of each boy topless, and put on a jar. Whoever collected the most money won the title of Mr. Covina. The money was used for scripts, royalties, lighting, make-up and other necessities.

The senior staff, Wendy York-President, Gus McDaniels-Vice President, Greg Piedalue-Manager, Jane Burse-Secretary, and Kim Bechard-Treasurer, had the goal to solidly re-establish Masque and Dagger and to procure a director to insure the survival of Masque and Dagger at Covina High.

Triad

Members of the Covina High Triad Council recognized the need for improvement and unity among the Marching Band, Concert Band, Jazz Band and Auxiliary units. Their first accomplishment at the beginning of the 1982 school year was the establishment of an organized and effective constitution.

Triads' purpose was clearly defined as the promotion of instrumental music and its activities at Covina High School, and throughout the community. It also had to increase participation and maintain unity between all musically oriented groups on campus such as: Pep, Drill Team, and Tall Flags.

Starting with the Drum Major down to representatives, there were many members on the Triad Council and each member had a specific role or duty to complete during the school year. Each member was equally important. The council consisted of a Drum Major. Assistant Drum Major, and Band Manager, Drum Captain, Band Secretary, Uniform Chairperson and assistant, Jazz Ensemble, and Banner and Flag representative.

The rules for the council were set up and agreed upon by all members and the adviser, Mr. Green.

Rules were stringently enforced and observed by all members. Directed by Senior, Vince Cowels, mandatory meetings were held twice a month.

Covina's Triad Council was not just another "fund raising" organization, they participated in two competitions and various other community events such as the Hollywood Christmas Parade and the Covina Santa Claus Parade.

The highlight of the year will conclude in the summer of 1983 with the annual European trip.

Covina Colts were very proud of the Triad Council and were very enthusiastic about all that the council achieved.

"Trippers"

The Political Science/History Club better known as the "Trippers" of the 1982-83 school year accomplished many great and commendable things.

After the great trip to Washington DC last year, the club decided to expand its horizons and voyage to the very scenic and historic region of Sacramento and the Gold Country of Northern California. This four-day trip was very educational and was enjoyed by all who made the trek. Officers for this year were elected in September and worked very hard to raise money and to help plan the travel experience. The president was the very dependable Darren Vilardo; he received an invaluable amount of assistance from the Vice-President Scott Kirk. Susan Pavelko served as the club's Secretary and Marissa Pocius managed the finances of the organization as the Treasurer.

Mr. Madison, Mrs. George, and Mr. Ihsen again served as the club's advisers and they gave unselfishly of their time and energy. Their dedication to the group was unequaled by any. The "Trippers" have now gathered a very worthwhile collection of slides and gained valuable experiences through the visitation of important, historic sites.

The club of politically-inclined students once again held a Dinner-Auction. A spaghetti dinner was served and the crowd had the opportunity to bid on many items of varying values. In addition to the second Annual Dinner-Auction, the group organized and participated in a Bike-a-Thon. Students obtained pledges for a 12-mile bike ride. The money from both of these lucrative fundraisers was used to help defray the cost of the trip to Northern California. The club refrained from soliciting donations from the community service clubs. They felt that they should use only the funds from these organizations for the more expensive trips such as the one to Washington DC.

The group looked anxiously and eagerly ahead to next year when it will again have the opportunity to journey to the nation's capitol and the surrounding area.

Varsity Football

This year's young and inexperienced Covina Colt Varsity Football Team played with great pride and enthusiasm. Despite some discouraging early season losses, the Big Red Machine bounced back in league and played with the courage and determination that mark Head Coach Rick Brown's method of coaching.

The Stallions this year were lead offensively by senior sensation, second team all-league runningback, Wayne Griffin. Wayne's past Varsity experience aided the team greatly and also helped junior quarterback Rob Fitzgerald in his efforts to put points on the board for the Colts. Fitzgerald finished the season as the Valle-Vista League's leading passer. Defensively the Colts had many heroes. Senior safety Mando Santos blended his experience with the youth of junior lineman Frank Pulice and the quickness of the rest of the defensive backfield, which was dominated by underclassmen. All of these "stickers" made many important contributions and helped to save the Colts from some long gainers.

Although the team's record was not impressive, they proved the adage that "it's not whether you win or lose but how you play the game." They played with the pride that has always set Covina's football program apart from any other.

In league play the Colts continued to improve with help from the explosive offense of Rob Fitzgerald, Wayne Griffin, and Courtney Rodriguez. An example of this is the awesome performance that was turned in by Griffin against La Puente. He gained 157 yards and provided spiritual leadership, which put one in the win column for the Mighty Colts. The defense continued to come into its own also, as the season progressed. The Colts' opponents were held to fewer points against the tenacity displayed by the "stickers" of Covina's devastating defense.

Although the Colt's hopes for a league title did not bring about the results that the team wanted, the school and Coach Brown look forward enthusiastically to next season and the continued development of the great potential that was displayed by the young players who made the line-up.

Another promising factor of this year's season was the amazing amount of fan support. Both students and alumni frequented the games with high spirits and loud voices. They were never disappointed as the Colts provided many dramatic moments that thrilled the throngs of people without end.

Summing up the season Head Coach Rick Brown says "I feel our season was truly successful even though our record would say it was not. Our seniors performed with great intensity and desire! I truly wish them the very best in their future years. Our younger players have great potential, I just hope they choose to develop that potential to the height possible!"

Covina's youth is perhaps most evident in the offense and defense awards that were given after every game. 6 of the 8 awards were given to underclassmen and only 2 went to seniors. Against La Puente Rob Fitzgerald shined offensively and Clint Moore played excellent defense. Against Northview first team all-league wide receiver Courtney Rodriguez was brilliant on offense, and the defense was led by hustling sophomore Eric Johnson. In the battle with South Hills Walt Brock was excellent on offense while Paul Hartman guided the defensive onslaught against the Huskies. In the conflict with Nogales Mitch O'Brien turned in a good performance on defense while Bob Hawks blocked effectively for the offense.

It is inevitable that Covina's Football will bounce back and return next year to put Northview and South Hills in their place.

Frosh Football

The 44 freshmen that composed the Frosh Football Team were in the words of Varsity Coach Brown "a great group of young people."

Their record was impressive and left the school waiting for next year's season to arrive to see if they can keep up the good work. Their victories brought great school spirit to the campus as the other teams met with difficulties in their contests. They posted a 5 win and 4 loss record overall and a 2 victory and 3 loss mark in Valle-Vista League competition.

They displayed a great amount of potential and were perhaps the best group of football players to hit the campus since the CIF Champions played together as freshmen. All the upper division coaches hope that they choose to stay together and pursue greater things with their football skills.

Head Frosh Coach Bob Casper and his assistants Chuck Hewitt and Bruce Stinson greatly enjoyed working with these players. The standouts amoung the ranks of the freshmen included the most improved player, Ken Garcia. Ken played receiver for the Colt offense. In addition to Ken, the lineup also included the best team player, Lineman Randy Hewitt. The most valuable player of the squad was the quarterback Matt Watson. The player whom the coaches picked as the most helpful to them was tight end Jerry Elias.

The freshmen represented Covina High School in a bold way and we can count on them to continue to do so in the future.

Boys' And Girls' Cross Country

It was an exciting and challenging season for the 1982 Covina High Cross Country Team. Led by Coach Janan Holmes and Captain Michael Meyers, Colt runners showed determination and pride, surprising their opponents with steadily improving times. The Colts proved their faith in themselves by finishing fourth in Varsity League Finals and third in Frosh/Soph-ahead of number one rival, Northview.

Junior Mark Schmidt took a seventh place medal for the Colts and was chosen All League First Team. Sophomore Brian Manfred was awarded Honorable Mention. Elizabeth Hayes, a Junior, took eleventh in Girls Varsity and was chosen All League Second Team. In the Frosh/Soph division, Sophomore Robert Mackey took third place, and Freshman Ron Rodriguez took eighth for the Colts.

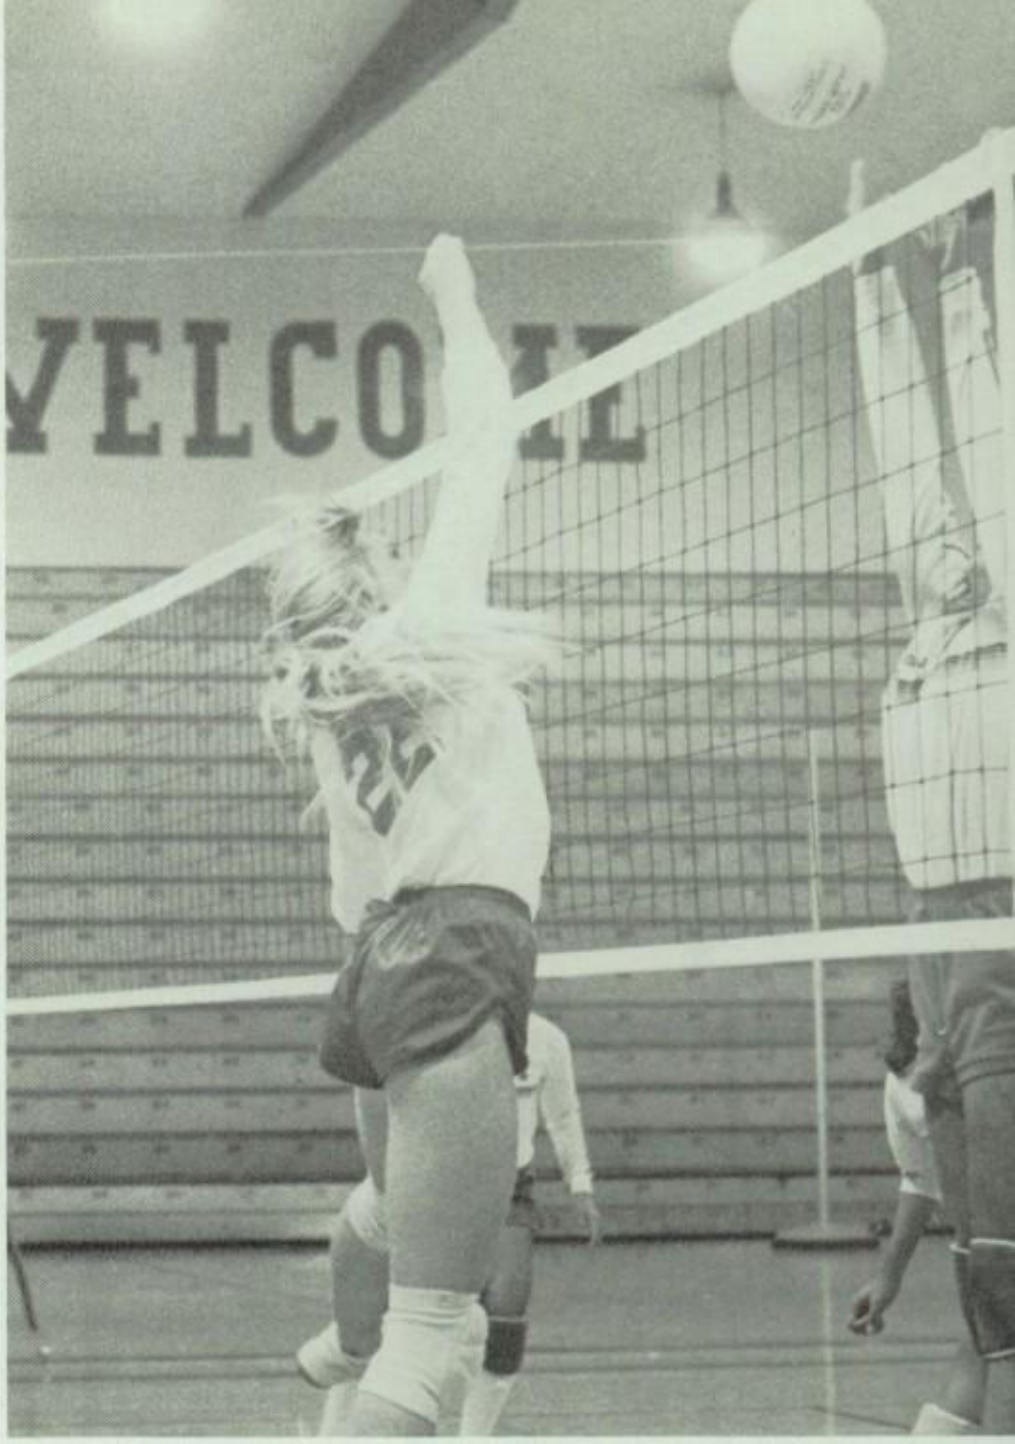
Varsity Volleyball



The Varsity Volleyball team had an excellent year. Covina's league standing was 8 wins and 2 losses. The team had many excellent players, everybody always gave their best, but there were four girls who led the Colts on the court. Karen Klovski, Karen Maybury, Sue Acosta, and Brendy Burke. These four girls were standouts on the team. Whenever the team was in a jam one of them would always pull out the Colts. The players really worked hard to accomplish their goal and that, of course, was to go to C.I.F. They fought together and they won together. The Varsity Colts played in the La Puente Tournament. They battled the second ranked Walnut team and won. On November 10 the Colts battled the El Monte Lions in the first round of C.I.F. The Colts won the first game 15-2. The second and third game went to the Lions. The Colts could not get it together, but their hearts were still in it and they fought hard. The fourth and last game belonged to El Monte. The Colts suffered a great loss. All of their hard work and effort may not have paid off in the championship as they wanted, but they surely had a great season all the same. There were five girls who made All League nomination to the Valle-Vista League Team. Senior, Karen Maybury, made First Team All League. Senior, Karen Klovski, also made First Team All League, and Senior, Sue Acosta made Second Team All League. There were two sophomores, Kristi Fuller, and Jan Klovski, who were nominated. Kristi was chosen Second Team All League, and Jan was chosen Honorable Mention to the Valle-Vista League Team.

J.V. Volleyball

The JV Volleyball team started the 1982 season with 3 straight losses. Then, after the Chaffee tournament where they won half and lost half of their games, they went into league play and won 10 games in a row and placed first in the Valle-Vista League.

The success of this team was due to many different factors. The consistent serving of Sue Hodapp, December Strid, and Laurie Volzke; the passing skills of Dina Ramirez and Becky Knudsen; the addition midseason of setters Diane Colson and Sue Branconier and hitter Kristin Sagmeister; the spiking of Debbie Barber and Debby Saxon; and the enthusiasm of Robin Drucker. Those who watched this team play will remember the diving saves of Carolyn Luke, Diane Colson and Irene Barrera; the timely serves of Laura Branconier; they key blocks and spikes of Debbie Barber, Debby Saxon and Sue Hodapp; and the fine setting of Sue Branconier.

When the 13 girls went from players with individualized skills to unified effort, they became a team. A group who utilized their many talents to become the first undefeated JV Volleyball team in many years. Their coach, Miss Hockenberry, stated: "I'm very proud of the accomplishments of this particular group of girls. We've had many talented JV teams in the past 10 years, but this team sacrificed individuality for team success. The eight seniors contributed not only their skill but their maturity. Intensity and consistency are the words which describe this team." JV's we're proud of you.

Girls' Varsity And Junior Varsity Tennis

The Covina Varsity Tennis team had a disappointing and unlucky year. They finished the season with a record of 0-10. Even though they didn't win any games, they played vigorously, with great spirit and pride, striving for a win. They played with great sportsmanship and with heads held high.

Our Varsity team consisted of 1 senior, Susan Pavelko, 3 juniors, S. Lewis, K. Locke, and B. McGowan, 2 sophomores, I. Malik, and N. Stilea, and 3 freshmen, C. Buckley, R. Kawakami, and K. Kinoshita. Most of them were new to the team and had little experience.

The J.V. team were all juniors and freshmen. They also had a rough and discouraging year. They too, came out with a record of 0-10.

The Varsity team and J.V. team were lead by Coaches Mike Dole and Nancy Pennell. Both coaches worked very hard helping some of the new girls with the more difficult moves. They gave encouragement and support.

Even though both teams didn't make it to the finals this year, the girls who return next year will be more experienced and they will work to go on to take the league championship.

Varsity Basketball

The 1982-83 Covina Varsity Basketball team had yet another banner year. Though their overall record did not prove to overly impressive, the Covina Colts were the talk of the town, with an 8-4 league record. Led by two returning players, senior Rob Edgell, and junior Don Casper, the Colts tore apart teams they played.

The Colts defeated their arch rivals South Hills and Northview and the highly rated La Puente "Warriors." In fact most of these teams did not stand a chance against Covina's fast break and excellent outside shooting.

Coach Contreras was able to count on dependable ball handling by point guards, Dino Robinson and Jeff Kerr, who always put on a great show. Also included on this fine team were starters Greg Pierce, and Rob Fitzgerald. This team was unique to certain degree because for the first time in several years there were several sophomores playing regularly.

The Colts managed to beat all the teams in the league with the exception of Workman and Nogales. Even with these losses the Colts took third place in league play and were able to go on to CIF play-offs. Because of the position the Colts held they had no choice of team or location and the team they drew was the powerful second seed-La Habra High School. This meant that the Colts had to travel all the way to La Habra to play.

But this was a win of sorts since the team had fallen on hard times and had not been to CIF for two years. In this case the elation was short lived, La Habra was deserving of the seeded position and reputation. The Colts were beaten 58-48.

The disappointment was great but the team looked forward to next year, especially since almost all the members will be returning. This will make the job of the coach much easier. The coach was very proud of these mighty Colts and since this was his first season here at Covina he was sure that next year would be even greater.

JV Basketball

The sophomore and JV teams combined to form one massive force. Despite their losing season, the team accomplished what they had intended from the start, which was to provoke experience among the players.

Even though the 2-8 league record didn't show a great team, it was not short of great players. Center Carl Sampson and forward Felipe Ortega, led the team with their leadership and fine atheletic ability.

Coach Bill Butler and his assistant Bob Casper, mixed their vast experience and led this JV team to a productive and generating season, as well as a fourth place in the La Puente JV Tournament.

Freshman Basketball

Covina High is known for excellence when it comes to basketball. The prime reason for its great success is its continually great freshman teams, and this year was no exception. The freshmen went on to be co-league champions, sharing it with Nogales Nobles. They had an excellent record finishing 8-2 in league.

Under the superior coaching of Bill Berich, who is known for his excellent freshman record, the young Colts conquered every team that made the mistake of being on the same court as them. With players like Matt Watson, Dario Robinson and David Kimbrell, the team was bound for a record season.

The freshman prospects for the future are good, and some day soon these players will be competing for the Varsity Valle Vista Championship, and if they're anything like they were this year those hopes are sure to come true.

Varsity Wrestling

The Covina High Varsity Wrestling Team did the usual again this year and took second place in the Valle-Vista League. The team has performed outstandingly for the last ten years. They have either taken a first or second place spot each and every year. The CIF finals found the team represented by twelve wrestlers for the thirteen weight classifications and of these twelve all placed fourth or above in CIF League Finals.

The team had an almost perfect season and had only one loss and that was to our sister school-South Hills. The matches for the rest of the season were a mere formality and the team won each of them handily. The team built their confidence as each match and tournament was won and by the time the match with first seeded South Hills had arrived the team was hoping for a win. This was not to be and the team finished a great season with only this loss.

Most of the team members had only one loss, and one of the youngest team members, sophomore Frank Trujillo, continued his winning ways and again was undefeated for the entire season.

Coach Haygood worked enthusiastically with the team and his expertise showed at the matches. Since only six of the team members are seniors the remaining seven will form a strong nucleus for next year's team.

The Junior Varsity Wrestling Team continued the great wrestling tradition of the Covina Colts. This young team of Colts captured the junior varsity division of the league. It was a great season and was marred by only a single loss to the Vikings of our rival, Northview.

The easy wins for the team this season bode well for the varsity team next year. This winning team will continue its ways next season. Their diversity was enhanced because they had men at all the various qualifying weights. The junior varsity had only one senior so the entire team will be back in force to compete with the host of fine wrestlers in the Valle-Vista League.

The tradition of being at the top of the league is not a new one here, the JV's have been league champion or co-champion for the last dozen years.

Girls' Varsity Basketball

The 1982-83 Covina Colt Girls' Varsity Basketball Team had a weak start for the season. Yet under the fine new leadership of Coach Clifforn Meyer who brought new standards for techniques and new plays, the Colts managed to pull themselves up and captured fourth place in the Valle-Vista League.

The girls did well in the Wilson Tournament where they played hard because they wanted to win and they wanted to prove they could do it. The spunky team took sixth place in a strong sixteen team tournament.

The girls had an outstanding average of over 50 points per game. The low point of the season was the Royal Oak Tournament when the varsity could only manage to take last. Even this had pride though since the loses were to the toughest teams in the competition and the games were played well and the losses were close. The team went home defeated but proud.

Even with this bad start in the tournament circuit and an even slower start league these scrappy girls battled back, picked up their pace and ended the season 5-5. Winning was not everything though, the girls had lots of laughs playing together.

It was hard to say that one girl led the team because all the girls played as a unit. There were girls who always gave something extra. Jan Klovski was always making rebounds, Ruby Valdez, had an excellent shot at the top of the key, Sue Branconier had an awesome jumpshot, Karen Maybury was astonishing with her great rebounding and Sheila Owens with her reckless and accurate hook shoot.

Sportsmanship, comraderie, and dedication were the earmarks for the entire season and all benefited from this season of play.

Girls J.V. Basketball

The Girls' Junior Varsity Basketball Team had a year of hard luck and disappointment. Although they finished the season with a 1 and 9 record, many fine individual efforts were put forward by these hard-working girls.

In particular, there were four girls who were extremely valuable assets to the junior varsity this year and with their experience will make them an invaluable addition to the varsity team next year. These girls were Lana Leamer, Neashell Tillery, Laura Smith, and Renee Griffin. There certainly was no doubt that these were the leaders of the team. Since these girls are underclassmen they can look forward to an excellent two or three years.

Under the fine coaching of Miss Tanya Bowie, the girls could always look forward to a hard practice after school, but this improved their basic skills and this is what will make them a stronger team next year. Tanya, as she is affectionaltely known, brought new drills and techniques to the team. Congratulations for a tough season.

The girls of the FroshSoph basketball team had a very rough and what would appear to be unsuccessful season this year. Although the Colts finished the season with a record of 1-9, they played their heart's out and where never down on themselves. Perhaps the greatest show of their spirit came with the last and toughest game of the season against Nogales they proved their stamina.

Under the fine coaching of Miss Hockenberry, the team learned the basic fundamentals of basketball. These skills will pay them finer dividends in the years to come. These young Colts were well led by Melissa Greenough, Michelle Iovina, Yolanda Barnes, and Susan McLean. The two captains of the FroshSoph team were two sophomores, Michelle Iovino, and Melissa Greenough.

Since this was the first year any of these girls had played their season totals were not bad. All the experience and skills which they have learned will be of use in the future. We will be sure of seeing these fine athletes next season.

Varsity Baseball

Covina High is widely known for its magnificent baseball team. This year's fine team was again headed by dedicated coach, John Bachman.

Coming back from yet another Valle Vista League Championship, this year's 1983 Varsity Baseball team did a great job living up to its standards. Although many strong players were lost to last year's ball club of '82, our team had many ready and reliable players which were left to support the team. Returning pitcher, Ted Griffin, again shone through with his great pitching ability as did Ron Peterson and Rich Herron. Also returning mainstays were great defensive players, Shanon Rose and Rob Fitzgerald. John Vega and Mike Schnable led the team with strong hitting records.

These fine ball players, along with the able coaches again gave us another outstanding season of Covina High Baseball - and what a job they did!

Under the coaching of John Kennerknecat and Bob Casper, the '83 J.V. Baseball team had another impressive season. The ball club did a great job in representing Covina and ended with another great record. Obtaining their goal of improving their ability, this team is ready for an exciting year of Varsity Baseball, which lies ahead.

The Freshman team, headed by Coach Charley Beal, proved nothing short of excellence. These young players, in their first year of high school ball, gained stamina and experience and they are headed for many more winning seasons and greater challenges ahead.

Golf, one of the less famous, most underated sports on Covina High's campus in recent years, suddenly become very popular this year. There were many participants in the golf program, which included one female. There were never crowds of spectators at the matches, but the team kept up their enthusiasm and finished the season improving their overall record from last year.

After a disappointing season last year, the team returned this year ready to work harder than ever. With every stroke, the athletes became more skilled and showed great improvement throughout the season. Without the two top returning lettermen and starters from last year, the team looked to Jay Burnett, a three-year starter and two-year, letterman, for leadership. Other players who led the team with outstanding scores were Robert de la Pina, Tom Hartman, Bill Smalley, Jeff Carlson, and Doug Boots. Doug Boots was very happy with his performance on the team this year.

The entire starting Varsity line-up consisted of all returning players, with at least a year of Varsity experience under their belts. With the patience, knowledge, and special instruction of Coach Roche, there was no limit to what the team was able to accomplish this year. They are looking forward to many excpetional seasons in the future.

Boys' Varsity Tennis

If holding the Valley Vista League Championship Crown wasn't enough pressure for this year's Varsity Tennis Team, consider they played a season under a new coach as well as tough competition. Only one varsity player returned, that was senior Luis Hidalgo, the rest were fresh recruits from last year's banner JV team. Despite the doubtful outlook, the very young and inexperienced team went on to have an excellent 23 match season. Under the new leadership of tennis wiz Mike Dole, the team learned the importance of endurance and never to give up til the last and final point has been played and obtained. The Colts went on to attack the teams in the Valle-Vista Leauge, and attack they did.

Labeling the team would be awfully hard. The team had several aspects of strategy. Baseliners, such as Darren Vilardo, provided the waiting vulture attack while strong net players, as Luis Hidalgo, gave the fans the dazzeling "oh my gosh shots!" In essence the team had a plentiful variety, providing both net and baseline shots for its opponents.

Playing singles were four superb young, intelligent athletes. They were Luis Hidalgo, Darren Vilardo, Mark Terry, and Oscar Lugo. All four proved to be an extremely big help in the team's success. Playing doubles, which is just as important if not more so, were Robert Wilken, Tim Belling, Eric Knudson and Joe Oliver. Combined they extended their efforts to overcome most unfortunate challengers.

Even though this year's team was scheduled to go down the tubes, they respectfully held their heads high and proved all the doubtfull wrong. Coach Dole's continual faith and advice led Covina High to yet another winning season.

Boys' Track

Covina's Varsity, JV, and Frosh/Soph track team, although inexperienced was a well-balanced competitive team. Under the guidance of new head coach Steve Miller and his assistant coaches Tanya Bowie, Janas Holmes and Ray Wilson, Covina's Track team was definitely a league contender.

Hard workouts, concentration and full devotion to challenging events such as pole-vaulting, hurdling, shot putting, and of course running, paid off with a tremedous feeling of accomplishment and pride by all athletes involved.

Leading the team in the 100 and 200 was Troy Amos and David Garcia. For the girls, Renee Griffin and Paula Gonzales. Mark Schmitt, Brian Manfred, Liz Hayes, and Amy Meyers led the team in distant running. Brian Mason, Dave Boisclair, Bill Johnson, and Randy Carter led the boys hurdling team as Juliann Wiggins did for the girls. For the high jump junior Don Casper led the team as he broke the boys' varsity school record jumping 6'41/4". This broke the old mark of 6'4" set back in 1975.

Covina's track tradition dates back to the "world class" days of the 1930s and 1940s, making our school records a little more special than most other schools. Congratulations to this fine team for their hard work and success in their outstanding season and for maintaining this proud Covina tradition.

Boys'Swimming

The bang of the starter's gun marked the beginning of the swim season and saw the boys' swim teams, varsity and junior varsity, soak up confidence as they swam their way to victory, under the tutelage of Coach Basche. Each individual worked at perfecting his own technique for each of the many events. Committed to hours of hard work and practice both early and late, the boys learned what a well-earned pay-off really meant.

The gentlemen's team had several veteran swimmers return for another fantastic year in the crystal-clear, chlorinated waters of Covina High School. Some of the returning guys included Gus McDaniel, Scott Kirk, Byron Young, Wally Terry, Scott Davis, Luie Diaz, Dave Everson, Chris Watson, and Scott Cooper.

Depth was added to the team with all the new members of the team. The season was a season of building and strengthening. While the team was not always a winner their spirits were never dampened and next season should be a fine and successful season.

Girls' Swimming

Every year between February and May the swimming pool becomes a bustling bee hive of activity and this year was no different. Towels and clothing littered the decking as scantilly lycra-clad swimmers practiced, practiced, practiced.

The ladies' team has always been strong and this year was no exception. For the past years, the girls' team was the commanding power in the Valle-Vista League. Many of the girls swam successfully last year and this year they carried on the tradition of winning. The team was led by butterflier Felicia Fraijo, Tonya Williams, free-styler Lori Foreman, backstroker and breastroker December Strid.

The team was coached by Head Coach Richard Basche, and he was ably aided by two assistant coaches Miss Judy Pohopien, and ex-Covina graduate Tom Addington. The coaches had high hopes at the beginning of the season and the team filled all their hopes.

Varsity Softball

The Girls' Varsity Softball team, coached by Cliff Meyer, started the season with a lot of enthusiasm and drive. The team was quite experienced, having eleven returning players, ten seniors, six juniors, three sophomores and one freshman.

The girls worked hard, and as a team, played their best. The morale and spirits of the team were always at a high, at practice and at games.

Cliff Meyer coached the girls into a fine season. He taught them new techniques and plays, making their game more successful. Cliff was the assistant coach for the girls last year so he already had a head start and knew his team members well. The team also had help from two assistants, who were big assets to the team. They were Frank Avilas, who handled the outfield, and Bill Herndon, who handled the infield.

The team goal was to have a five point average a game, and to hold their opponent to an earn-run-average of twe point five. The team played consistantly both offensively and defensively. It was a large unit, but the coaches felt it would be for the better of the team, and as it turned out, they were correct. Each girl had a specific job to do and they did it.

The girls hard work, long practices, and determination paid off as there 1983 season ended successfully.

J.V. Softball

The 1983 season opened with high hopes and anticipation for the young ball players. Sixteen players made up the JV team, with eight returning players.

The junior varsity had a new coach for the 1983 season. Janet Madden took over the job of preparing the girls for varsity. Ms. Madden wanted to do more than that, she wanted to have the best JV team in the league and to be the best JV team Covina High has ever had.

The girls worked extra hard, and extra long to be the best. They wanted to make Covina High proud of their team. Each day, the team improved little by little. The season went by fast and fairly easily for the JV team. The girl's hard work and dedication paid off at the end as the win column filled up.

There was also a reserve team, which practiced with the junior varsity. The girls wouldn't play in games, but if they worked hard enough they could bump off a JV player. This reserve was a threat to the playing girls, so it made them work even harder.

The girls had fun and it turned into a great learning experience.

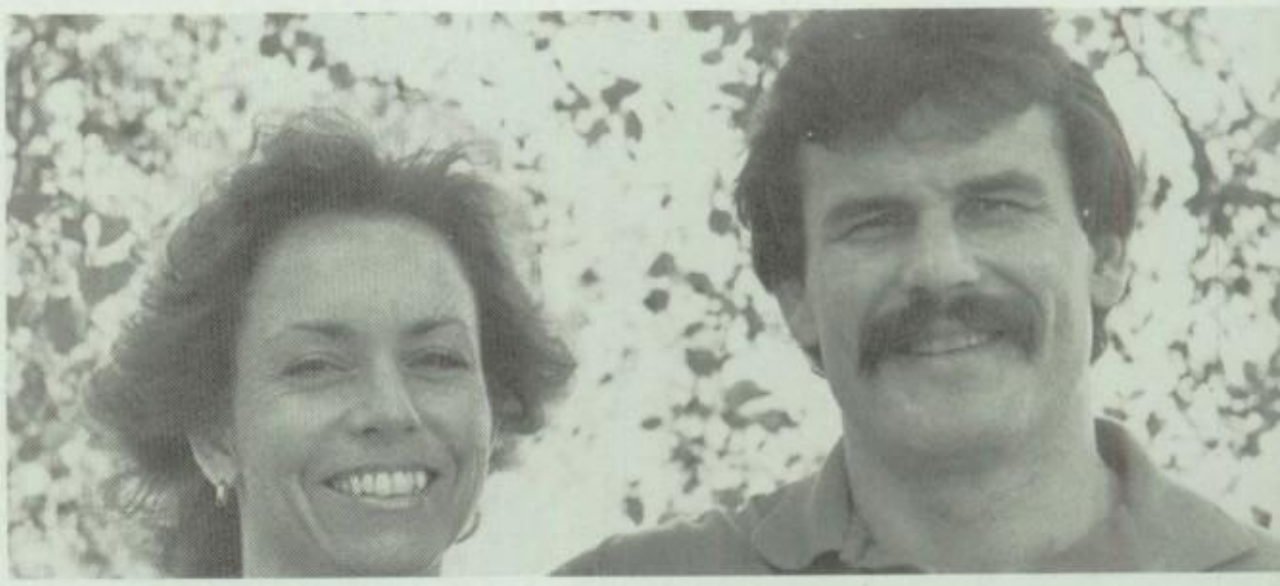
Co-Ed Badminton



The Covina Colt Varsity Co-ed Badminton team was off to a great swing under the fine coaching staff of Mr. Marc Haygood and Mrs. Nancy Pennell. Although the coaching was good, the team had a rough time against their opponents. The colts were stuggling to rebuild as they had only six returning players; Martin Martinez, Don Nyeholt, Beto Rangel, Karen Maybury, Mario Mancuso, and Darren Chamela. With such little experience the team had little chance for the League Championship.

The Colts hosted their first Co-ed Varsity Badminton Tournament. Seventeen teams from the San Gabriel Valley competed for the tournaments prestious title.

Over all the Colts had a Funfilled season, which is the main purpose in any high school sport. As the old saying goes, "it's not if you win or lose it's how you play the game".

JUNIORS

Period IV

JUNIORS

The main goal of the Juniors for the 1982-83 school year was making money, lots of it. As the dollars and cents were cashed in the well-earned payoff became a reality. Prosperity and riches summed up to a grand total of success.

The class council had various fund raisers, which were held throughout the year. Some of them were bake sales, car washes, dances, concession stands, key chain sale, candy sale, and of course, the successful sale of the Covina Colts painters' caps.

Besides getting involved in the fund raisers, the Junior class helped to promote class involvement and school spirit. It seems as if the Junior class was all work and no play, but that wasn't true. They found time to have get-togethers including a Christmas party and an end-of-the-school-year party.

All this time and effort would not have been possible if it had not been for the dedication and the spirit of the entire Junior class. The class council was led by President Greg Stephenson, whose past experience in student council and ASB was a real asset to the class of 84. The rest of the Junior cabinet consisted of Vice-President, Charlene Barrett, Secretary, Treseen Fleming, Treasurer, Somini Sengupta, and Legislators, Michelle Evans, Paul Letourneau, and Adora Umaguing. The rest of the class council included, Jane Burse, Donna Deligio, Felicia Fraijo, Janice Hansen, Tom Hartman, Wendy Hill, Nancy Huang, Debbie Nagai, Amanda Jacks, Rhonda Lietz, Kim Locke, Lisa Laricia, Lori Lavender, Paul Linkins, Debbie Ryan, Lisa Tanner, Mark Terry, and Rhonda Troup.

Much of this year's success was due to the fine efforts of the Junior class Advisor, Mr. Robert Ihsen. Let's hope that the enthusiasm of the class of '84 will be carried throughout their Senior year.

This year's Junior Class has done a terrific job in creating new ways to help support the Prom and build the energetic class spirit that separates us from all other classes.

I would like to thank my cabinet for their strong support. I would also like to thank my class council who all worked diligently to make our class and this year a success. It has been a pleasure to have worked with such a fine group, but most of all thanks to all the members of the great class of 1984.

SOPHOMORES

The year 1982-83 was a prosperous year for the sophomore class. It was full of exciting and new things.

They started on the right foot with the leadership of Krisyi Fuller filling the position of sophomore class president. Amando Umaguing helped her as he fullfilled the office of sophomore vice president. The treasurer was Wendy Gregory. Kim Bechard was the secretary for the class of 1985. The class legislators were Chris Hollister, Matt Quillicy, and David Alexander. The class council were a group of hard working sophomores. Who helped out when ever and where ever needed.

In September the council set goals which they knew had to be accomplished. There was work and responsibility ahead of this young class. The class pulled together and came out on top with the students working together, they accomplished what was necessary.

The main goal was to raise as much money as possible for the Junior-Senior Prom that they will put on for the class of'84.

They held various fund raisers and each member of the class council helped and planned these events. Even though the planning and working gave them a headache they all turned out very successful.

The sophomore class with high goals and a class council who reached them. The members of the class council were not just limited to council. They showed their Colt Pride by also being in school sports. Many of them were in service clubs, band, tallflags, and drill team. Members also showed their spirit by cheering for the sophomores.

The key to a good class and a good time in high school is involvement. The sophomore class showed its enthusiasm at rallies. They showed their class pride by gaining spirit points, getting involved in spirit week, and in noontime activities.

They will return to the campus in September as upper classmen. Good luck to the class of '85.

has made school more enjoyable for me. I believe most of this was due to the fact that I had such great people working with me. All of the officers on the Sophomore Class Council Amado Umaging, Wendy Gregory and Kim Bechard gave their all, working together to raise money for the prom. But it wasn't just the officers who helped, I would like to extend my greatest appreciation to all the members of the council especially Chris Scheaffer who I feel contributed very much to the entire Sophomore Class.

I would like to again thank everyone on the council who made all the fundraisers the dance, the food sales, and the rummage sale such great successes. I would like to mention also that without Mr. Murcer none of what we accomplished could have been done. I know everyone agrees with me that Mr. Murcer was extremely helpful and always there when we needed him.

My Sophomore year will always mean alot to me because it gave me the opportunity to work with great people and really prove what can be accomplished with everyone working together.

Period V

Freshmen

They are the future. They are the Freshman Class.

The 1982-83 school year was a new experience for a good share of students at every high school, but for the newest colts at Covina High it couldn't have been a more challenging adventure.

Along with new and different faces, there were new styles, fads and images that the freshmen contributed to campus. The class of eighty-six was far from being followers of fashion, they are definitely trend setters and a variety of tastes. Working as a team the students added some promising vigor and spirit to the mighty colt campus.

The attitudes of the freshmen class were positive and ambitious. Several goals were set and great amounts of effort were exerted.

Advised by Mr. Golley; President Michelle Manwaring, the class and their council enthusiastically participated in spirit week, sports, soc-hops, rallies and profitable fund raisers.

There were many challenges, but probably one of the most exciting and daring was trying to cut through the popular Senior Quad without being caught and "canned". The typical freshman was found dangling in the corridors or running to their classes in fear of being tardy. Yet, the class of '86 did a super job at overcoming all their "freshman phobias."

With the end of their first year, much has been achieved and accomplished, but with each added year there will be more advancement, responsibilities, and dreams. But now the students of the graduating class of 1986 can say they have finally made it through the toughest year in high school, and have added greatly to their never-ending education.

Although 1986 seems to be just a distant illusion, the next three years hold unforgetable and priceless memories for the 'Future Successors' of Covina High School.

Our freshman year was one to be remembered and also one to be proud of. We had many activities throughout the year which included football games, rallies, dances and spirit week. The freshmen showed much school spirit by getting involved and supporting these school activities. We also had many successful fund raisers such as: candy sales, bake sales, etc., to help raise money for our freshman class.

I have enjoyed being class president and these people have made my job easier: Vice President, Michelle Vensky; Secretary, Jamie Brown; Treasurer, Lucy Santana; Legislators, Gia Piscopo, Terri Smalley and Cheryl Bordelon. I would also like to thank Mr. Butcher and our advisor Mr. Golley for their support and guidance throughout the year.

I am confident that our next three years at Covina will be as exciting and rewarding as our freshman year, and that the class of '86 will carry on the proud traditions of Covina High.

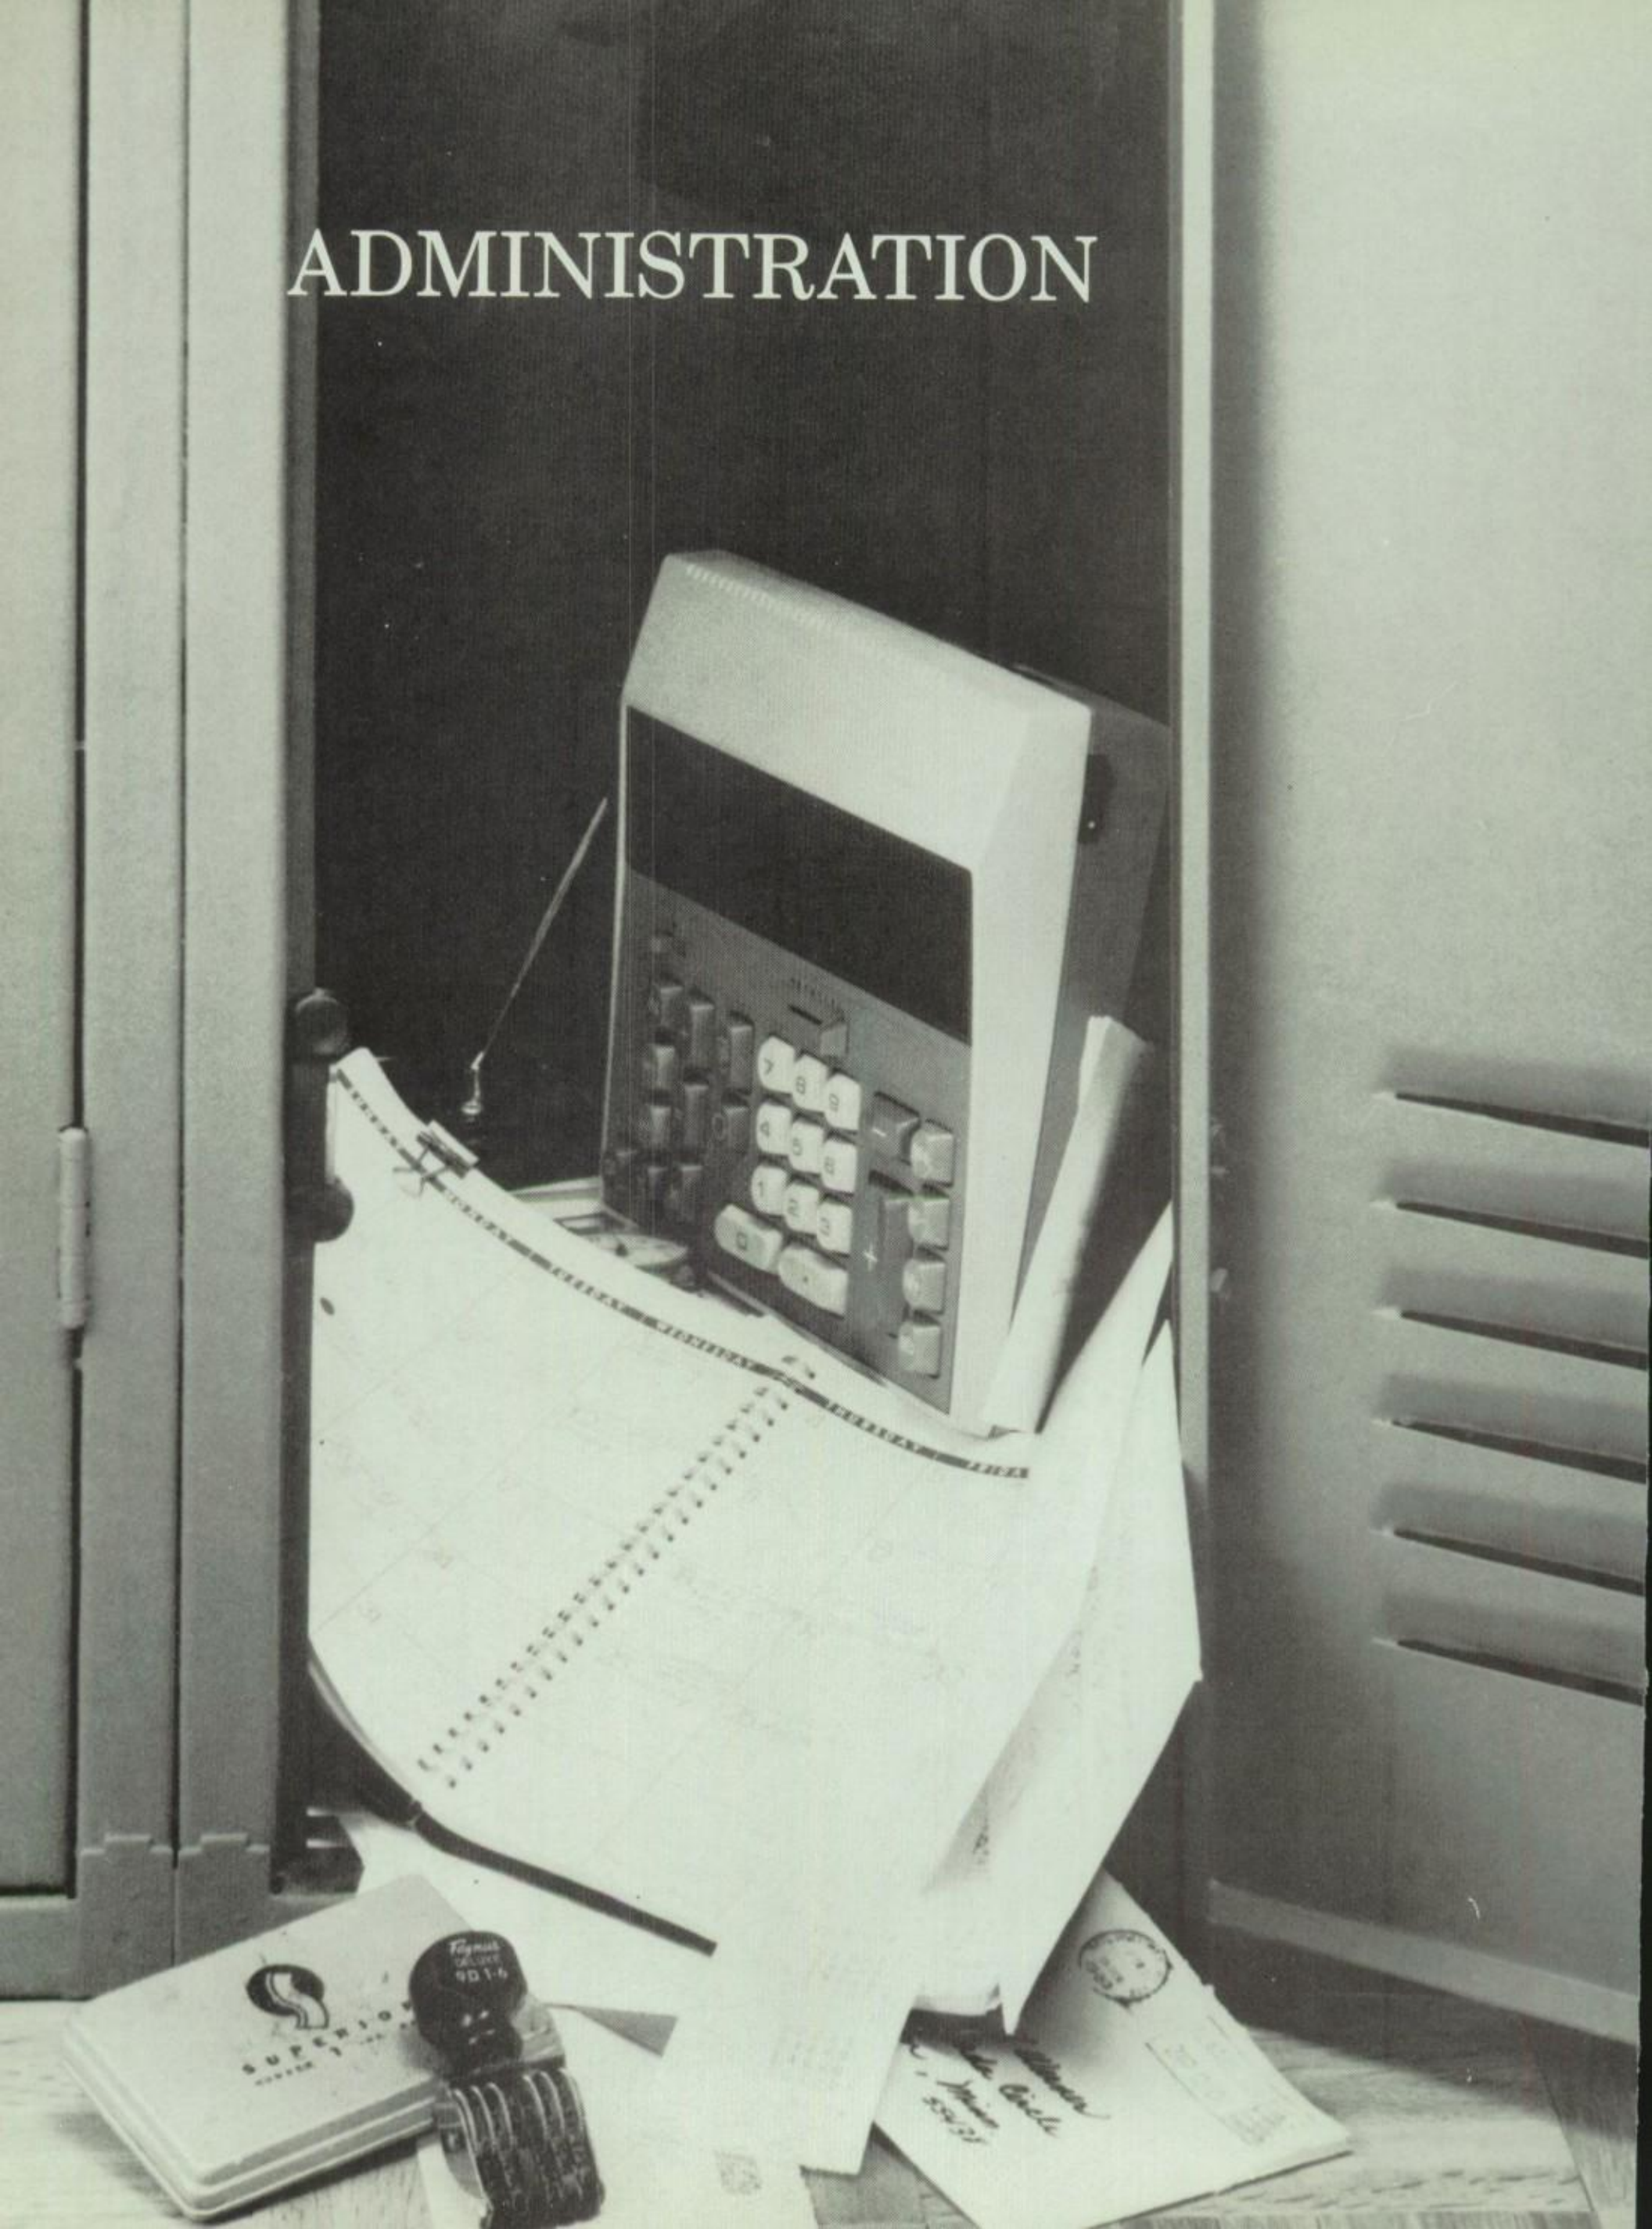
ADMINISTRATION



ADMINISTRATION

Period VI

Administration

Dr. Erwin Jones, Superintendent

Student success continued to be a paramount importance in all the various levels of administration. The Superintendent, Dr. Erwin Jones, worked in conjunction with the Board of Education and the administrative staff of Covina High School to insure the ultimate success of all programs instituted for the benefit of students.

Student success, of course, had always been the prime consideration of the working staff of principals and deans of Covina High School. To achieve this goal, meaningful experiences were offered at both curricular and extracurricular levels during the entire 1982-83 school year.

The administrative staff were kept busy with the various problems of simply maintaining a large, old campus. Our year on campus was interesting and productive. Mr. Earl and Mr. Cluff handled all responsibilities that arose on campus and kept the entire year smooth and comfortable.

Mr. Earl was often seen manning the fortress in front of the ASB Office at brunch with the rest of the administrative staff. Mr. Cluff smiled his way through the year, and a charming smile it is. He is a great favorite with both faculty and students, even though his direct contact is mainly with the teaching staff and only rarely with students.

The two deans continued to bring order and discipline to the student segment of Covina High School. They administered fair and just discipline to all who found their way to one or the other's offices. The mark of their fairness was noted by the number of students who just dropped by to chat or to ask for help with a personal problem. Mr. Frank Haven will retire after this year and the entire staff and student body will miss him and his fairness. Mrs. Delzangle will, of course, have to break in a new office partner.

Good Ole' Fashioned Stew

A unique recipe for "Good Ole' Fashioned Faculty Stew" from good old Rancho Covina. The following recipe was an original that could not ever be copied nor compared to anything else. Covina High's very different touch of spice came with its original and varied ingredients. Spice was added from various parts of the United States and even from "Jolly Old England."

All the ingredients had been mellowed on various campuses for approximately 218 years, and the final tuning was here at Covina for a fantastic 508 years. One had to take all the ingredients and stir, beat, push, knead, blend, and pour into 104 rooms housed in the old school buildings right here at the famous Home of the Colts. Bake at about 70°— because we had brand new air conditioners—from September to June, about 5 days a week. We added no preservatives nor additives and this hearty dish of 44 basic ingredients served-up 1200 portions.

No recipe could ever be the same because of the many different personalities of the Covina High Faculty. They held a record of 726 years teaching, and 508 have been here at Covina. 36 were married and 9 were single. They had 106 children and 49 grandchildren. They supervised 51 clubs and taught 100's of subjects in those years at Covina.

Kids love to do their homework in front of the tube.

A small computer can make a big difference in the way your child does homework. Because kids love computers, they tend to spend less time in front of the TV screen. And more time in front of the computer screen. Learning.

The best place to learn about personal computers is at ComputerLand. Because we have all the biggest names in small computers to help your child, at home or at school. And to help you, at home or at work.

GOOD LUCK COLTS!

Dear Diane:

You are a terrific person and a great friend. In the time that I have known you you have made me a better person and I'll never forgive you for it.

You taught me to sit back and enjoy life a little bit more. You showed me how to find the humorous things in everyday life and chuckle at them. You made me laugh at the silly things in life that people do. But most importantly, you allowed me to find part of myself that I never knew existed — the part that lets me love others because they are people just as I am a person.

We shared some great times, you and I, and I'll cherish those memories forever. Thank you for sharing part of your life with me and being a friend.

I Love You
Marissa

Aristo-Craft Metal Spinning would like to Congratulate the Class of 1983.

Diane, Kim, Dave, Robin, Marissa, Randy, Scott, Susan, and Eddie, would like to say,
"Congratulations to the Class of '83."

Best Wishes to the class of '83 from Barbari's Printing

Kim, Congratulations, we are very proud of you. Hope all your dreams come true, and your future is filled with happiness always.
Love,
Mom & Dad

Congratulations and best wishes, Darren.

Love,
Mom

To My Mom and Dad (the ones I love),
You've been with me since the beginning. We've all been through a lot. Especially you Dad. Thanks for taking me in and loving me as if I were your own flesh and blood. I'm so sorry for all I've done to hurt you both. Hopefully someday you'll understand my behavior and forgive me. I want you both to know, no matter what I ever say or do, I'll ALWAYS Love you, FOREVER. LOVE,
Tina

Remember what fun we had back in '82?
KOOKI KARRIE & DEE DA HEIDI what a crew;
20 tanks of gas and that tan didn't last,
Homework what's that-Oh M God I'm getting fat;
Knotts and camping-Boy, did we have fun,
Surfers and muscles-what more could we have done;
Those play days have come to a close,
40 hrs. a week-no more time to doze.
Love, Mom

Best Wishes in the future! We love you. Congratulations.

Love, Mom & Liz

Thank you Covina faculty for coping with such a radical. Congratulations Michelle.

Love, Mom & Dad

Diane,
I love you very much. I hope all your dreams come true. You deserve the best.

Love, Mom

The reason why we're such good friends is very plain to see
I understand the things you do.
You have respect for me

No complicated folk are we,
no striving to be clever
Yes, friends may come and friends may go, but we'll be friends, forever.

Swan Song ...

And now that it is over-

A great deal has taken place since that day last spring when the thunderous voice called from G-4 appointing me as Editor-in-Chief of the 1983 Cardinal. Since that time I have attended a yearbook camp, made plans, drawn roughs, gotten ads, became disgusted and mad, arranged for a million pictures, written copy, and lost sleep over meeting deadlines.

To the Normal student these things are meaningless but to a yearbook editor these simple things can give one a heart attack ... and almost did!

But would I do it all over again. Well, your guess is as good as mine. But now it is done, and it wasn't just a one-man job.

Though new to yearbook, each and every staff member contributed their time and talents to the best of their abilities, even if it meant staying late after school and working the 9 to 5 shift on weekends.

I would especially like to thank our adviser Mrs. Watkins for always being there with her guidance and assistance through our many tough spots; Mr. Moore our photographer; and Mr. John Thomas of Jostens/American Yearbook Company for his patience and help any time. An extra special thanks to Marissa a close friend and staff member for all her support and hard work. (P.S. thanks mom for trying anything, anytime).

Finally to the entire student body, enjoy this year's edition of the Cardinal and have a Pee Chee of a life to those leaving Covina High School.
